

Sri Seshadri

COACH & CONSULTANT

"It was a pleasure going through a coaching journey with Sri. He helped me gain great insight into my strengths and areas of development and then provided me with advice, frameworks and collateral to help me achieve my objectives. His experience and approach to coaching is extremely valuable for anybody who wants to grow leadership, management and other skills. Even after the completion of the coaching exercise, Sri continues to engage with me on an ongoing basis and offer help and advice."

– Vice President in Software Development

AT-A-GLANCE

- INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE: Financial Services | Consulting & Corporate Training | Technology | Healthcare | Industrial/Conglomerate
- 25+ years of experience helping global organizations achieve sustainable growth and transformational change
- Senior leadership roles at GE, Capital One, and CEB (now part of Gartner)
- Managed budgets exceeding $600 million
- Advised C-level executives on financial, operational, and strategic matters
- Worked with startups to Fortune 500 corporations
- Focuses on lasting impact, emotional demands of leadership

Sri Seshadri is a seasoned CEO Coach and Leadership Team Coach with over 25 years of experience helping global organizations achieve sustainable growth and transformational change. Drawing on his expertise working with mid-market CEOs and their senior leadership teams, Sri focuses on accelerating business growth, improving profitability, and maximizing enterprise value. His background lies in developing cohesive leadership teams, promoting conscious leadership, and implementing strategies that drive long-term success.

Sri's career includes senior leadership roles at major organizations such as GE, Capital One, and CEB (now part of Gartner), where he managed budgets exceeding $600 million and advised C-level executives on financial, operational, and strategic matters. His experience spans a wide array of industries including technology, healthcare, consulting, and corporate training, with a global reach across five continents.

Sri has worked with companies of all sizes, from startups to Fortune 500 corporations, helping them scale, innovate, and seize new opportunities. His broad experience enables him to provide unique insights that drive business transformation, whether it's improving organizational culture, streamlining operations, or guiding a company through a strategic pivot.

Sri's coaching is not just about driving immediate results—it's about creating lasting impact. He focuses on helping leaders not only navigate the tactical challenges of business but also manage the emotional demands of leadership. His holistic coaching style enables leaders to build the confidence, resilience, and clarity they need to succeed in any business environment.

